Communication Policy for WhatsApp

Usage Introduction:

Gamma ASSETS values efficient communication while respecting individual privacy and data protection. This policy outlines three essential steps - acceptance for data and communication permission, calling to ask for WhatsApp message availability, and sending messages after obtaining consent.

Step 1 - Acceptance for Data and Communication

Permission: a. Prior to initiating communication via WhatsApp, employees must acquire explicit permission from recipients for data usage and communication through this platform. Permission must be documented and obtained through a separate channel or established relationship where consent has been granted. b. Employees are required to ensure that recipients acknowledge and accept the use of their data and the intent for communication via WhatsApp before proceeding further.

Step 2 - Calling and Asking WhatsApp Message Availability:

a. After obtaining acceptance for data usage and communication permission, employees should initiate contact through a call to confirm the recipient's availability and willingness to receive messages via WhatsApp. b. During the call, employees should inform the recipient about the nature and frequency of intended WhatsApp messages, allowing the recipient to confirm their consent or express any preferences regarding communication.

Step 3 - Sending Messages:

a. Upon receiving explicit consent during the call, employees may proceed to send messages via WhatsApp, adhering to the agreed upon terms, frequency, and content discussed during the call. b. Employees must respect the recipient's preferences and refrain from sending messages if consent is withdrawn or communication is declined during the call.

4. Compliance and Enforcement: a. Non-compliance with this policy may result in disciplinary action as per Gamma ASSETS policies and procedures. Conclusion: Gamma ASSETS expects employees to follow the outlined steps for obtaining consent and permission before initiating communication via WhatsApp, respecting individual preferences, and ensuring compliance with data protection and privacy guidelines
